

We run at a fast pace here. If you can keep up, we'll have you trained as a chef in no time.

It's not complicated,

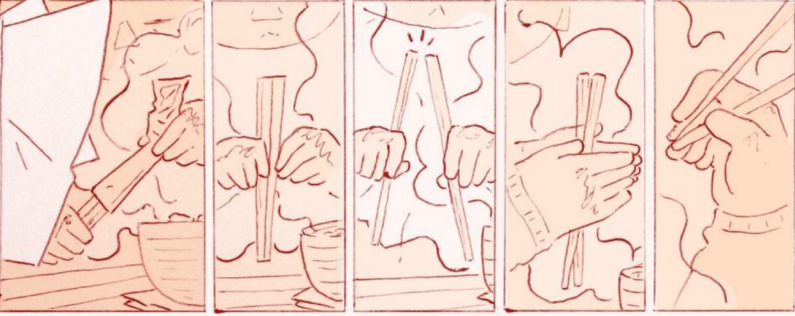

And I hope for your sake you like Japanese food, you'll be eating it every day.

Try to memorize our menu today if you can,

The hard part is turning up every day, building the habit. I need a team I can rely on, a team that wants to support each other, I need commitment.

What do you think?

Well sir I haven't been drowning in opportunities lately,

This place seems nice, and that's good enough for me.

BAHHHRGH!! HONEY, HAIRCOVER!!

Good luck! I'll talk to you later kid, work hard!

Yes sir! Thank you

Finally! Is he gone?

Let's play some real music,

Now that's more like it!

"Yeah Johnny Boyyy, Johnny boyy,"

You coming in then?

Hey, I'm the trial shift today, uhm Bug just sent me in.

Let me guess, Bug just gave you his big speech about the ramen bar and the ethics of hard work and all that,

Well ignore all that, we certainly do. The only way to learn is through the school of hard knocks, trust me.

Seriously? You are the school of hard knocks around here.

You can dump your stuff over there!

What's your name then?

Right! I'm Ash,

Ok Ash, grab an apron!

Then we hit the handwashing deck,

Yes Mam!

Don't call me Mam I'm 25 years old.

Learn to wash your hands properly, follow the manual if you have to. I'm not here to poison people or catch a case. There's really only so much damage we can do as chefs so long as we keep to kitchen rules, so please God just keep your hands clean.
